Traditions

Traditions can mean bondage or they can mean strength and satisfaction. They can bind us to the past and prevent advancement, or they can give us a solid footing on which to climb. Through the years a few ceremonies and symbols have become B. H. S. traditions. Sight of these stirs our emotions and makes us strive for better things.

Back in the fall of 1921 according to Clarence Amen, RED and BLACK were officially selected as the school colors. The first athletic association was organized with Harold Donovan as president and himself as secretary-treasurer. The main objective of the organization the first year was the purchase of uniforms for the boys' basketball team. They raised the necessary money (chiefly by a two-night carnival), selected their colors, and bought the suits from Lowe and Campbell. Thus for the first time did Bucklin athletes appear in uniform. Hitherto each had worn whatever he could procure for himself.

In the fall of 1925, H. O. Brough came to Bucklin as superintendent. During his administrations several customs were originated which have been lasting. In a letter he states, "I believed a school needed tangible symbols to stimulate school spirit and promote loyalty and unity."

As sponsor of the class of '26, he suggested there be a school chain to which each class would add a link. As part of the graduation services that year the president of the senior class, Roger Townsend, presented the first link to the junior president, W. H. Martin. Each president made a short speech about upholding the ideals of the school. Thus far, no class has failed to add its link and give its pledge of responsibility.

The following year Mr. Brough was again sponsor of a senior class. This class too wished to do something which would add to the impressiveness of graduation. From them came the ceremony with the American Beauty roses. A small boy and tiny girl, brother and sister--J. W. and Anna Merle Norton--carrying a large basket of American Beauty roses, led the processional of graduates to the platform. Later the valedictorian, Earle Holmlund, passed the roses out to his classmates and platform guests, symbolizing the desire to share beauty and happiness with one another. They also held an alumni banquet at which they organized an alumni association with W. H. Martin as president; Kelley Carter, vice-president; Helen Hansman Leister, secretary; and Lourine Finney Herriman, treasurer.

Sometime during the later 20's the need for a mascot for the athletic teams was felt. The bulldog was selected and the teams since have been known as the Bucklin Bulldogs. No one seems able to recall the exact year, team, or dog with which the custom began. Many believe it must have been about 1928 with "Old Bob," a brown and white Pit bulldog belonging to the D. M. Lindley family. "Old Bob" escorted a team to a Brookfield tournament or so in '28 or '29 and had his picture taken at Alexander's Studio with the graduating class of '30. Following "Old Bob," came Chi, and English bulldog also belonging to the Lindley family. Chi's masterful personality was felt for several years. Then came Lady, a somewhat petite mascot, whose owner is Luticia Fitzgerald. Lady was succeeded by Jiggs who came with the Bartees and shared with them their enthusiasm and devotion to the sports. It is a known fact that the spirits of "Old Bob," Chi, Lady, and Jiggs in turn urged their teams on to victory and a high level of sportsmanship.

So as symbols of ideals which are uplifting and of spirit which is enthusiastic and vigorous, we cherish the "red and black," the Bulldog, and the American Beauty Rose. We hold to them because of what they stand for, and look ahead to the opportunities and possibilities of attainment that may be ours. Since every accomplishment has its beginning as a hope, a dream, an aspiration, they give us incentive, encouragement, and strength.

Combined Efforts

BALL DIAMOND LIGHTED

A noteworthy improvement made for th school during the past year by the board of ed ucation was the purchase and installation o lighting equipment for the ball diamond ad jacent to the school. The equipment consist of eight poles--each 80 feet tall--and 8 lights and reflectors.

The field was formally dedicated Friday evening, September 12, with a ceremony pre ceding two games with the Meadville Eagles The Bucklin school band, headed by the nat ional color bearer, the drum major, and fou majorettes, marched onto the unlighted field These were followed by the boys' baseball team As the band played "The Star Spangled Banner, the lights were turned on by members of th school board.

A dedicatory speech was given by Vernon Kennedy of Mendon, scout for the Chicago White Sox and former major league pitcher. The Reverend Hollis Wilhelm, pastor of th Methodist church, offered the dedicatory prayer.

THE PLUCKY BUCKLIN BULLDOGS have just succumbed to the Northwestern Eagles in the Tri-County conference tournament held on the newly lighted diamond, October 14.

PUBLIC ADDRESS SYSTEM FOR AUDITORIUM

A public address system for the auditorium and gymnasium was purchased from the Kansas City Sound Service Co. and installed in time to be used for the spring music concert on the evening of March 17. The system consists of nine eight-inch speakers, a 60 watt amplifier, and four portable microphones for use in various locations on or near the stage.

The system was paid for by the efforts of four organizations. Spear-heading the list was the Parent-Teacher Association who paid a major portion of the cost. The Freshman classes of '58 and '59 each put in their $100 Planned Progress award checks and the Senior class of '58 gave $50.

GIVING AN ASSIST to the school many times in many ways was the P. T. A. organization. They helped with the lunchroom at tournaments, immunization programs, and home room projects. They bought part of the blinds for the school, screens and a utility cabinet for the cafeteria, and helped buy the P. A. system.

A SERIES OF GRASS FIRES in the spring of '58 called out the volunteer fire fighters and brought about the construction of an incinerator which controlled flying paper and wood shavings.

Advanced Mathematics and Science

Chemistry was introduced into the curriculum this year. There are eleven students enrolled in the course. Instructed by Mr. C. A. Bartee, the class takes up the fundamentals of basic chemistry.

In the mathematics department, Algebra I and II, trigonometry, and plane geometry are taught also by Mr. Bartee. General mathematics is taught by Mr. Graves. These classes offer a thorough course of study for the math student.

Volleyball, basketball, and softball are played by the various physical education classes. A chart of the success of the teams is kept and each member of the winning team is awarded a ribbon at the end of the year. At the close of the regular basketball season an intramural basketball tournament is held. Winners of this year's tournament are the Senior boys, and the Senior girls.

BONNIE SIMPSON attempts to explain a problem involving fundamental trigonometric relations to Myrtle Arbuckle.

THE GENERAL FORMULA for solving trinomial quadratic equations is solved and explained by Larry Bartee to Randall Stone in Algebra II.

CREATING MINIATURE flower arrangements appealed to many. Originality and judgement in choice of containers and flowers brought special recognition to Carol Sue West, Doris Ann Wright, Jackie Aderton, and Patsy Burris.

Creative Art

Chief among Miss Cannon's goals are helping students to develop an appreciation for beauty in the world about them and to understand their responsibilities as citizens.

During the year each person learns various styles of lettering. He experiments with different mediums such as flowers, oils, pastels, water colors, wood, clay, and even soap. Some results are merely imitations, while others are really objects of beauty and interest. One never knows what artistic talent he possesses until he tests himself.

FINISHING TOUCHES are being applied to an oil painting representing a stained glass window by Diane Taylor and Carol Ann Vobornik.

VALUE OF SOAP as a carving material, though generally used as cleansing agent, is demonstrated by Norris Bailey and Raymond Yochim, who are busily sculpturing statuettes.

LINDEN proved to be the best material for chip carving, according to John Grable, who is working on his second letter holder.

Good Citizenship

New privileges and new obligations come with maturity. The course in Civics helps students get an understanding of their community and its problems. They learn the important part they play as individuals-- that what they think and do affects many other people. In general they learn how they may become good citizens.

For the fourth consecutive year, Miss Cannon's Civics class won a Planned Progress award from Missouri Power and Light Company.

NEVA STANDLEY, chairman of the Planned Progress committee, together with the other members--Tommy Dick Bunton, Miss Cannon, Roger Guyer, and Lois Judas--are receiving the certificate of award of $100 from Mr. Paul Meyer, district manager for the Missouri Power and Light Company, at an assembly program, February 4.

LEARNING THE FUNCTIONS of each department of our national government is part of the work of the Civics class. Leroy Miller, Sharon Crouse, and Judy Summerfield are using a set of charts to find answers for questions on a work sheet.

Developing Practical Skills

Business education is a part of total education. Its purpose is to equip an individual with the necessary understanding of business principles and the fair and honest ways of dealing with his fellowmen. In addition to teaching certain skills and techniques, business education should develop in the individual the abilities and capacities for meeting new and trying situations. Business training should help an individual to bring order and precision--necessary in the business world--to his thoughts and endeavors in other fields and in playing his role as a citizen.

General Science & Advanced Science

In this scientific age, when one can travel to the opposite side of the earth in a matter of a few hours, it is most important that a person be informed about and have an understanding of national and world conditions. To help him get this understanding, the Bucklin student has the opportunity of taking four units in social studies; namely, civics, world history, American history, and American problems.

The need for science in today's world is an ever growing field. The study of matter and energy, so important in everyday life, necessitates a study of science. The basic purpose of scientific education at the secondary level is not specialization through verbal mastery of information. Rather, it is this period that should be considered primarily a time of intellectual discovery and to the acquiring of further scientific and theoretical knowledge.

Bucklin school offers the student the opportunity to take general science, advanced science, biology, and chemistry. He can prepare for everyday life or for going on to higher education.

UNDERSTANDING AMERICAN HISTORY from the time Columbus discovered America in 1492 until the present day is the goal of the class. George Kitchen, Harold Harrington, Sue Jackson, and Myrtle Arbuckle are having a map study of the United States during the Civil War period.

THE PRE-SCHOOL SCENE frequently consists of groups of students studying for their various classes of the day. Paulette Carter, Connie Head, and Darrell Guyer are studying for the tough American history examination that is to be given that afternoon.

HEATED ARGUMENTS of small groups that study in the art room before school reveal a sincere and stimulated interest in science. Here were heard the words nucleus, protons, electrons, neutrons, and molecules being used by these freshmen as they studied their general science.

How to become happy successful teenagers to day and homemakers tomorrow are some of th major objectives sought by students in Miss Parrish' home economics classes. They study themselves their personalities, appearances, and environment and then learn what to do about them. Part of th time is given to study of text books, to cooking, an to sewing. Three units are offered in home e conomics.

WOODWORK is one of the basic industrial areas which many students enjoy. Here, Laverne McCarty, a second year student, is finishing up his desk by giving it a coat of wax after the final varnishing. First year work deals mostly with learning to master the use of manual tools and of the power equipment. The second year finds them turning out useful and attractive products. Time is distributed among wood, metal, electricity, and sketching during both years.

ndustrial Arts and

Driver Training

MUCH TIME AND PATIENCE is required to become a good draftsman. In the field of drafting, four types of drawings are learned. These consist of working drawing, perspective, isometric, and oblique or cabinet drawing. Here Larry Bradley is drawing a plan for a candle holder.

THE INDUSTRIAL ARTS CLASS becomes a handy man for the school. Gary Anders and Richard Borron are making a cabinet for the cafeteria. The class have also made blackboards for classrooms, score board for the ball diamond, and have helped on the P. A. system.

DRIVER TRAINING is a class primarily designed to teach young drivers the proper driving attitude and instill in their minds good safety practices. The cooling system of the automobile is being explained by Mr. Rulon.

The marching band traveled far and near, as they participated, with other bands, in the half-time performances at the University of Missouri and at the Northeast State Teachers College.

A Christmas concert and spring concert was given by the concert band. The solo and small groups formed by members from the concert band are a drum solo, pep band, trumpet trio, clarinet quartet, and a saxophone quartet.

Hot, Nutritious Lunches

Every person had the privilege of enjoying a hot nutritious lunch at noon. The cooks produced a great variety of appetizing dishes ranging from juicy-burgers, chicken and noodles, and fruit salads to turkey and pumpkin pie.

Several pieces of equipment were purchased for the kitchen last fall. Among them was an oven which permitted the baking of eight large cakes or cobblers at one time. Four twelve-quart pressure cookers, four stainless steel roasting pans, and five stainless steel baking sheets were also bought, as well as a few minor items.

Experience and Service

Much valuable service is given the school by two groups of students, who at the same time, are gaining experience, which may be helpful to them later. Above are the librarians who assist Miss Cannon with the many library duties, such as the cataloging and repairing of books. They also check books in and out and keep the library in order. It has been said that a trained library staff is as important to a properly functioning school library as well-stocked shelves.

Below are the students who serve in the principal's office. They answer the telephone, deliver mail and announcements, get the daily lunch count, collect and check the absentee slips, type letters, and run all kinds of errands. This experience gives them an insight into office work and they discover whether they would like to continue it as a career.

Maintaining a school plant that accommodates about 375 people in good order is a real job. Mr. Burk, unaided except in extra-busy times such as tournaments, kept everything clean and comfortable. Just to sweep daily, nineteen classrooms, the lunchroom, gymnasium, halls, et cetera, took lots of foot work, and moving of chairs. When there were night activities, he had to clean a great part of it a second time.

And Keep the Motors Running

Six men had the responsibility of transporting practically the entire enrollment to and from school. Each made a short run and a long run morning and evening. Mr. Stoddard and Mr. Yount made the extra drives when athletic or school groups went to other places. In spite of the stormy weather and bad roads, they maintained a prompt schedule free from any accidents.

During the 1958 baseball campaign, the crowd, as well as the players, experienced a very exciting season. The diamond was greatly improved because of the extensive grading done in the spring and the installation of a $3,000 lighting system in the late summer. Through hard work, willingness, and cooperation, the team overcame some weaknesses in ability. They developed a strong defensive team, but were somewhat weak on offensive. They ended the season with 6 wins and 3 losses.

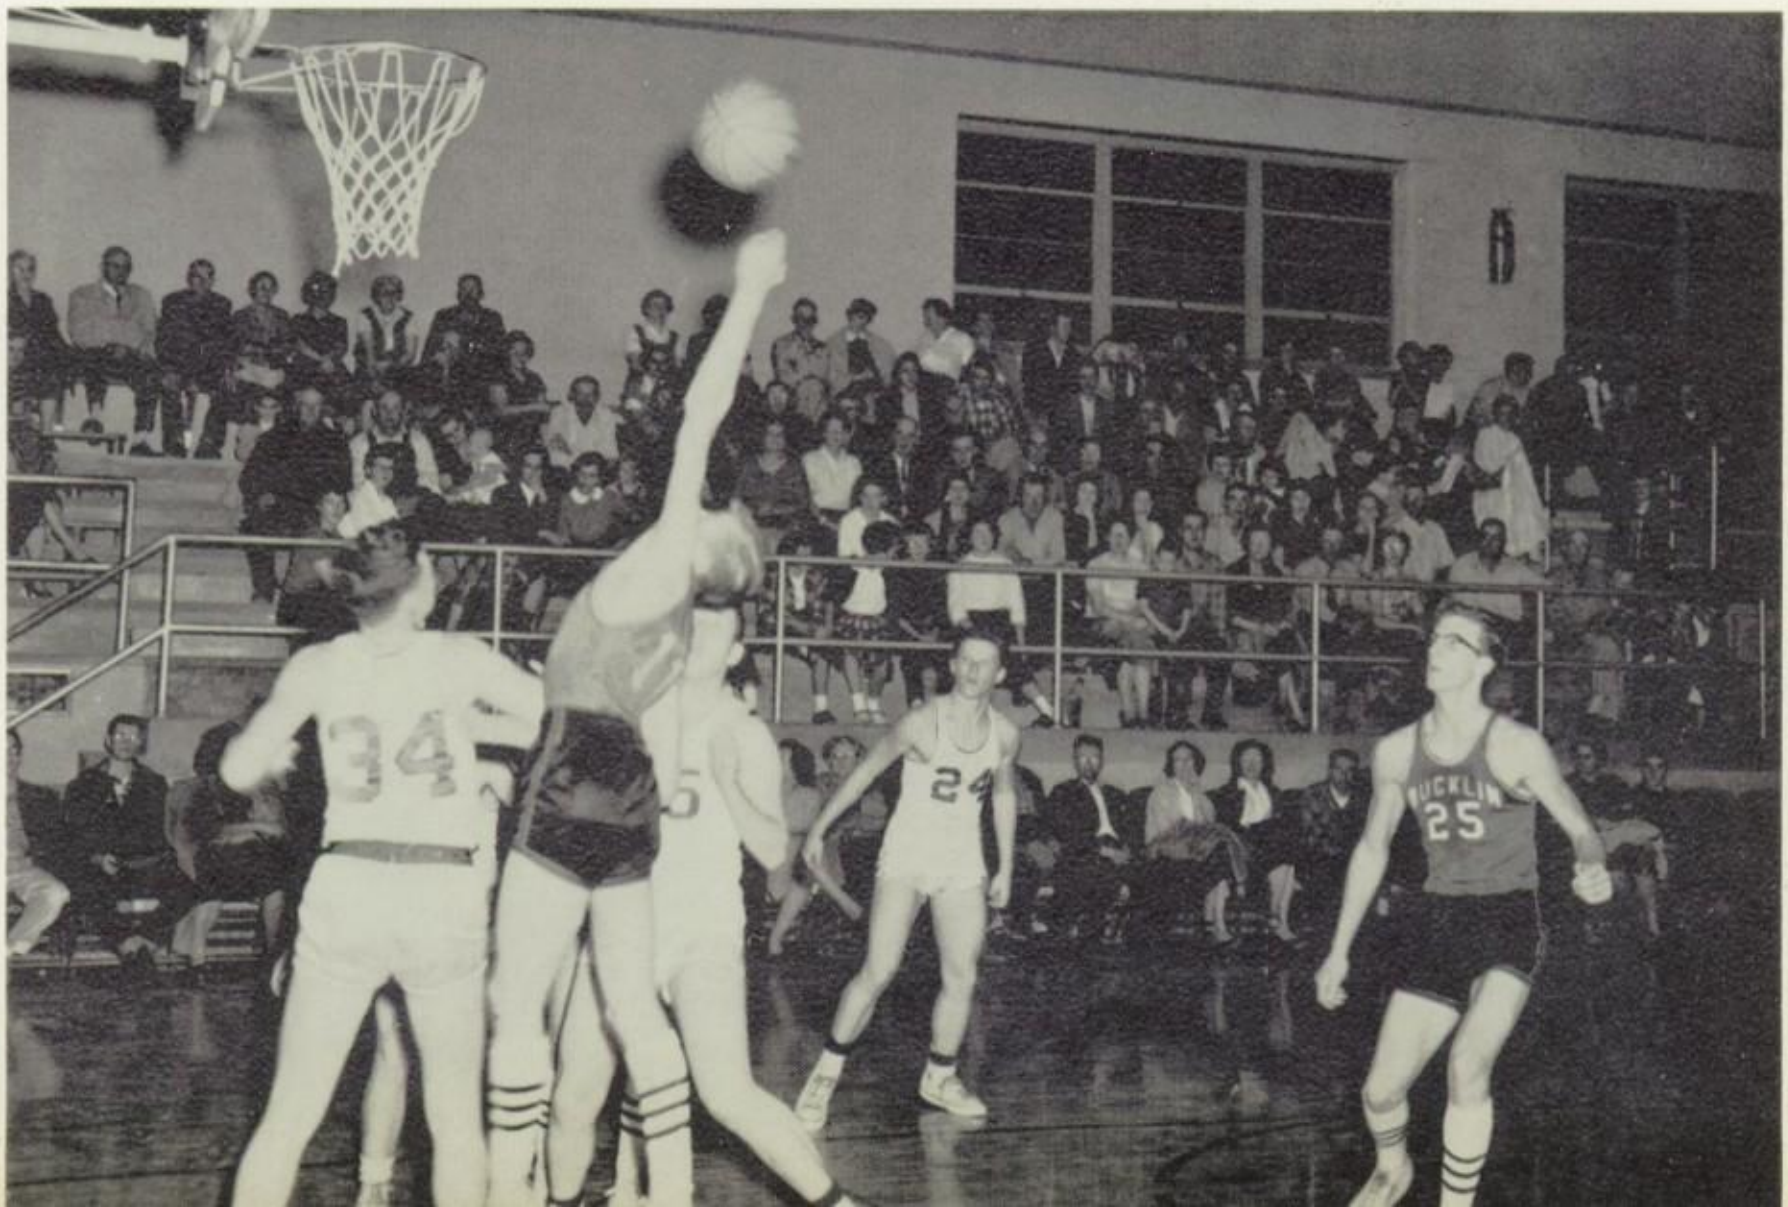
JOHN ALMOND goes up for a shot against the Bulldogs arch-rivals, Meadville, as Joe York gets ready for the rebound in case he misses.



A TOUGH GAME was always in store when Bucklin clashed with Northwestern. On the home court, the Bulldogs battled them to a heart-breaking 1 point loss, but they got revenge in the Liberty tournament by downing them 16 points.

THE UPSET WIN over Meadville, by a score of 60 to 41 in the Regional Tournament, proved to be one of the most thrilling games of the season. Larry Bartee proved to be the sparkplug with his excellent shooting and dribbling throughout the game. The Bulldogs improved steadily as the season rolled along by good teamwork and cooperation. The season ended with four juniors and one senior on the first five.

GOOD REBOUNDING proved to be important in many games, for it gave the Bulldogs extra chances to score. Ronnie Ervie and Ronald Collins contributed much, in this way, throughout the season.

Coach Bartee passes strategy along to his Bulldogs at half-time. Using pennies he shows them their mistakes and how to avoid being caught, flat-footed, on defense or offense. This always inspired the boys to come back out, in the second half, with renewed energy and hustle.

Mr. Bartee is renowned for getting his boys to think and for the plays he teaches them. One of the most effective plays is the shifting zone defense that always seems to stop their opponents from scoring. On offense, they had a series of plays that called for different boys shooting from their favorite spots on the court.

LARRY BARTEE and JO YORK were elected captain and co-captain for the season by the members of the squad. The boys were, also, selected for the conference team. Larry Bartee was selected as all-conference choice and Jo York for the second team by the conference coaches.

HITTING THE SAWDUST HARD isn't uncommon in the pole vaulting event, as Jo York proved, when he went on to tie for third at the District Class C meet at Kirksville. This qualified him to attend the state outdoor meet at Columbia.

Cindermen Capture Conference Title

A great sport year was climaxed when the Bucklin Bulldogs captured the annual Tri-County track meet. This was the Bulldog's third Tri-County championship for the 1958 season. In the fall, they captured the loop's baseball title and in the winter, they won the basketball crown and advanced to the state tournament before losing out.

The team participated in eight meets during the season. Consistant winners in these meets were Milan Rogers and Daryl Hayes, dash men, Ronnie Collins and Bobby Molloy, distance runners, Larry Bartee relays, Tom Edwards, shot-put and relays, and Joe York Hurdles and pole vault.

A TENSE CROWD watches Milan Rogers clear the bar at 5' 8" to place second in the high jump. Milan scored 20 points in the meet, winning first in the 100 yard dash, in the 220 yard dash, and in the broad jump.

TOMMY EDWARDS, in second place, starts the mile relay against Meadville and Brookfield. Bucklin won second in this event.

BOBBY MOLLOY, an experienced half miler for the Bulldogs, finished in second place.

A circus, which included some world famous acts--aerial artists, clowns, lion tamers, elephants, inch worms, dare devil riders, and dancers--moved onto the school grounds last May 9 and gave a memorable performance in honor of the Queen of the May.

Early in the evening Anita Molloy was crowned, Queen of the May, with pomp and ceremony. Thereafter, seated on the throne in company with her royal attendants, she witnessed the amazing twenty-four act entertainment. The circus personnel numbered about 250.

The Wild West broke forth with the Double B Ranch Riders, as they galloped into the ring.

Have Vacation

The bus motor purred at midnight, May 16, as twenty-two seniors boarded for their last week together. The recent graduates were bound for Rockaway Beach, Missouri, and determined to make their last link in the school year the best.

Cabins, decked out in pastel curtains and cluttered with the new luggage, were merely a resting place. Efforts concentrated on the swimming pool. This was a good thing for a senior heroine emerged by rescuing a little boy from drowning. Part of the girls spent their time studying foreign civilizations by observing rather attractive representatives, while the boys ate picnic lunches, explored the countryside, and ate some more. Dancing and games passed the sunburned evenings very well.

Six days later, bye-bye Rockaway, hello St. Louis. Naturally, the girls developed a shopping craze which the boys thought was crazy. Since there was only one day to explore the city, seniors flitted everywhere. Then at evening came the spectacular cinerama. That night, heaven tipped its pitchers and the rain poured. The graduates grinned; gray skies couldn't touch happy hearts. Next day, the party was over when the bus turned at Bucklin junction. The seniors locked their last link away as a memory.

CAREER DAY AT KIRKSVILLE commences with a chuckle. Aboard the bus, anything pertaining to lessons is pure imagination.

"Freshies" Suffe

SHIRLEY SWITZER AND GARY KITCHEN, upon request, over-whelmed their upperclassmen by waltzing in their "charming" attire prescribed for the occasion.

ATTEMPTS AT THE REQUIRED PUSH-UPS, by this group of freshmen helped prove their sportsmanshir to the seniors. Their signals for doing them were the ringing of the bells and the cries of "Panty-Raid."

A GUITAR, with SOFT MUSIC, MOONLIGHT, and ROSES, have to be imagined by Neva Stanley and Freddie Arbuckle, as they dramatize a marriage proposal in the assembly.

The '59 Freshies were eager to become a part of the high school, even if it did mean paying homage to the "honorable" seniors. To the youngest and oldest sets of Bucklin High, especially, Initiation day was a day of fun and amusement in coordination with study. Laughter and amusement broke out in full force with clashing colors, stringy hairdos, baggy clothes, sacks of goodies, and excited shouts.

In spite of the stern commands given to the Freshies in the assembly, by their superiors, they proved their good sportsmanship. They held out through solo performances of song, dance, speech, and even a little hog calling.

While Seniors Laugh

PHYSICAL FITNESS WAS TESTED by a race with life savers across the stage floor. The contestants were Bonnie Heaton, Judy Herriman, Kay Bragg, and Janet Head.

DOROTHY DOWELL, KAREN STONE, Judy Summerfield, Sharon Crouse, and Diane Lacer are trying hard to concentrate on their studies in spite of the excitement on this rollicking occasion.

ROGER LOVETT POSES with his "baby," as all proud mothers do.

An exhibition of their "backwardness" was also presented to the grade school children. Their superiors led them from room to room, commanding them to fall to the floor and do push-ups until the signal was given to rise.

Another of their required antics contained an element of truth. When on bended knee, the initiates repeated "I'm a stinking, green freshman, who loves the honorable seniors." The stinking part was a fact. The unpleasant odor of those onion necklaces hovered in the air long after everyone had gone home.

EXPERT SERVICE was given by the food committee.

Freshmen, Host

The Freshman class entertained their parents, the faculty, and the school board members at the annual freshman luncheon, Tuesday evening, October 21, at the Bucklin school.

The guests were received and greeted at the door by appointed committees.

A covered dish supper was served, cafeteria style. The guests were then seated at tables decorated with autumn centerpieces.

When the meal was over, the guests were welcomed by the master of ceremonies, after which the Freshman class introduced themselves, and their parents.

Following the program, the guests were taken on a tour through the different classrooms. Everyone eventually met in the gym for the last big event of the evening. Calisthenics were demonstrated by the girls and tumbling was demonstrated by the boys.

With the final clap of applause, the weary, but excited, Freshmen drew to a close their first big school activity.

Galloping Ghosts

The Junior class, with their sponsors, Miss Lou Ann Parrish and Mr. William Thorne, presented Galloping Ghosts, a three act mystery comedy, to a well-filled house, Friday evening, October 24. Prankish teenagers, hidden money, weird apparitions, and two crooks produced situations that kept the audience in suspense until the final curtain.

THE JUNIORS GAVE A SIGH of relief, relaxed their nerves, and resorted to the bliss of "eating" after their final curtain.

Reco Staff Stage

A great variety of talent was brought forth by the Reco staff when they presented their second entertainment, November 20, with Robert Hunt as master of ceremonies.

They opened their program with "Poison Ivy," a fast moving one act play which revealed many hilarious situations of a family preparing to go o a trip to a woods. In the cast were Randall Stone John Almond, Marilyn Dowell, Carl Hanson Carmin Cunningham, Doris Wright, Darrell Guyer and Billy Myers.

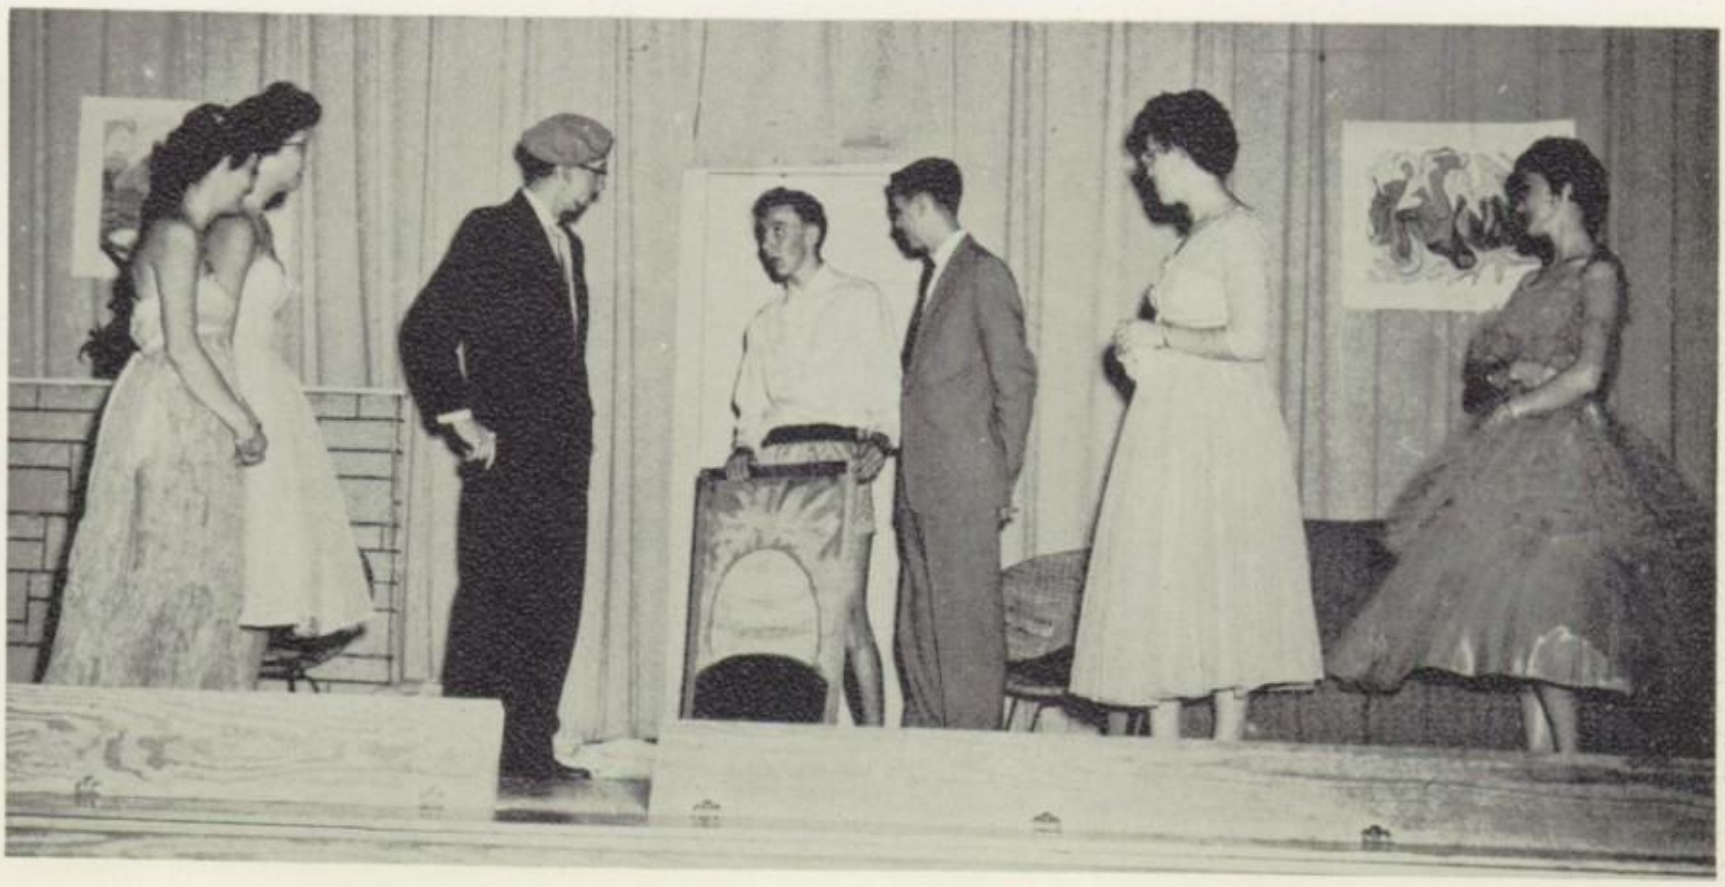
Another one act play, "Sunset Becomes Rhythm," brought out the appreciation for modern art in comedy form. Members of that cast were Garry Amen, Larry Vobornik, Garry Wilson, Jo York, Cheryl Heaton, Evangeline Switzer, Deloma Wolfskill, Bonnie Simpson, Elna Johnson, David Siemens, Joyce Gannon, and Harrison Mendenhall.

"NOT AT ALL," said Mr. Paul (Larry Vobornik) quickly, "Mr. Featherstonhue was the one that recognized it."



Half-Time Coronation Festivities

Two coronation events which will be long-remembered by many students of B. H. S. were the Homecoming and Valentine Sweetheart games. These two festivities were planned by the Student Council. Miss Parrish acted as mistress of ceremonies on both occasions.

The homecoming game was played Friday evening, November 21. Miss Bonnie Simpson and Tommy Edwards were crowned King and Queen at the half-time of the boys' game. They were the candidates of the Senior class. The other candidates were: Juniors, Carol Niemeier and Jo York; Sophomores, Mays Hayes and Jerry Edwards; Freshmen, Lois Judas and Jerry Yochim.

On Tuesday evening, February 17, Deloma Wolfskill was honored by being elected Valentine Sweetheart, at the third annual Valentine Sweetheart game.

She was presented with a bouquet of red roses by Larry Bartee, captain of the boys' team, at the half-time period of the boys' game with the New Cambria Trojans.

Her identity was not revealed until she stepped from a brightly decorated red and white valentine box that was brought out onto the gym floor to the center of the basketball court by four players of the Bucklin team--Larry Bartee, Jo York, Jack Anderson, and Jerry Heaton.

The members of the Bucklin band formed, on the gym floor, the shape of a heart. They provided music and background for the ceremony.

Other candidates this year included Carrie Belle Overstreet, the other senior representative; Connie Head and Cheryl Heaton, junior candidates; Connie Elliot and Mary Hanson, sophomore representatives; and Kay Bragg and Charlene DeGeare, who represented the freshman class.

Festivities of Christmas

The big social event of the year for all high school students and faculty was the annual Christmas party, the evening of December 19.

This big day was filled with pin curls, decorations, preparation of chicken salad sandwiches, pretty dresses, bright ties, and mistletoe. Teachers were kept busy trying to teach regular classes and keeping track of people excused for special duties.

The students started arriving around 7:30 p. m. Soon Miss Parrish began the games with the voting for the best caroler, square shooter, sweet tooth, basketball player, pal, eyes, dancer, student before Christmas, Christmas smile, and the girl who likes the boys best.

WHILE VISIONS OF PARTY FLOATED through pin-curled heads, preparation had to be made for the refreshments and the next class.

VOTED "BEST" ON THE QUESTIONAIRE given out by Miss Parrish were Harold Burris, Gene Morgan, Cheryl Heaton, Raymond Yochim, Tommy Bunton, Connie Head, Arleta Baugher, Mr. Oehrke, Darrell Guyer, and John Grable.

DANCING WAS A FAVORITE form of entertainment. During this slow dance Carol Vobornik, Alvin Head, Charlene DeGeare, and Gary Vobornik take it easy after the tiresome Rock'n Roll.

The student council members sponsored the dance held in the lunchroom which was gaily decorated in red and green. The big Christmas tree showed up beautifully in the light given off by the candles in the window. The dance music and couples added to the festive atmosphere immensely.

The gifts were given out while Santa roamed the room wishing everyone a merry Christmas. Afterwards, the halls were filled with students eating the traditional chicken salad sandwiches, ice cream, and pop served by the faculty. The faculty enjoyed themselves in the decorated Home Economics room. Soon couples and small groups began leaving and the halls were again deserted.

"SANTA, I'VE BEEN A GOOD GIRL and I wish you'd bring me a stuffed football player," said Joy Ervie as she sat on Santa's knee.

"WHO'S WINNING in your game of solitaire?" asks Mr. Graves.

Future Bulldogs are filled with admiration for the trophies and with dreams of future conquests.

The Best in Athletics

The "B" Club was formerly originated on October 15, 1958, by Mr. C. A. Bartee. At that time, the following officers were elected: Larry Bartee, president; Tom Edwards, vice-president; and Roberta Switzer, secretary.

The purposes of the organization are to elevate the ideals of sportsmanship, develop a high type of leadership, stimulate a desire for a balanced training, foster a high scholarship among athletes, and to set standards for a school letter.

Promoters of High Ideals

The Student Council is a student government organization consisting of two elected representatives from each high school class. The goals of the council are to boost the school spirit, teach leadership, instill student respect for school property, and remedy problems. The council sponsors an annual all-school Christmas party. Also, as an aid to the school, it performs necessary services such as cleaning the trophy case and ushering at ball games.

The sponsor, Mr. C. A. Bartee, meets with the organization the second Thursday of each month. He is aided by the president, Judy Neal; vice-president, Jo York; secretary, Phyllis Head; and treasurer, Garry Wilson.

"Accuracy and completeness are a must," repeats Mrs. Nickerson again and again as she strives to discover and develop creative talent in her staff.

PICTURES ARE BEING CUT by Elna Johnson for the music pages.

CARL HANSON SMEARS rubber cement on a picture for Carolyn Wilson, editor-in-chief, as they work on the class pages.

"YOU MUST PASTE pictures EXACTLY on the line," say the feature editors, Judy Neal and Deloma Wolfskill, to Cookie Ervie.

ARNOLD ALDINGER with the city maintainer is a familiar figure to Bucklin residents. Having in mind the city's welfare, the City Council during the past year bought a dump truck, started construction of a building to house machinery, and spent $3,170.24 for rock, drainage, labor, and maintenance of machinery.

WHOLE SCHOOL HOOPS it up in a new craze during the early fall. Pamela Verone, Joan Divelbess, and Arlene McCollum gave a demonstration of their skill.

Another Reco Added To The Chai

The last link of this Reco binds together those who are the backbone of the production.

The sincere interest and cooperative support of many persons has been a big factor in the compiling and publishing of this 1959 Reco.

First we are appreciative of the interest taken in us and our wishes by the photographers--Mr. W. G. Ikenberry, for the group and senior pictures; Mr. Jim C. Harvey, for the class pictures; and Mr. Bert Nickerson for the action and miscellaneous shots.

A share of our appreciation goes to the Bucklin Chamber of Commerce and the Bucklin City Council for the financial aid and encouragement.

Printers and Publishers are next in line for thanks. The successful completion of our 1959 Reco is due in a large measure to the personal interest taken by the Walsworth personnel.

Last, but not least, we thank the parents and friends for their active cooperation in the fund-raising campaigns which have added money to our treasury.

We, the Reco Staff, thank you, and thank you again for all of the big and the little things you have done for us.

The Staff
